My Headache Experience Journal

Clinician reference

A patient-maintained headache diary for conversations with a healthcare professional.

Recorded information

Episode dates, duration, pain intensity, symptoms, reported triggers, and treatment use. Front, back-of-head and neck mapping retains the order and time areas were first selected.

Per-area treatment response

Treatment timing, relief timing and recorded outcomes: effective, partially effective, not effective or worsened. Blank outcomes are excluded from effectiveness rates.

Reports

Standard PDF and CSV use completed episodes only, with demographics, area details, frequency summaries, medication-use counters and SNOOP screening history. Premium AI reports discuss associations, not causation.

Clinical limitations

Entries are self-reported. First-selection times describe logging activity, not verified biological spread. Missing entries can underestimate frequency and medication use. Screening is not a diagnosis or an emergency assessment.

Try the map or view a fictional sample report

https://journal.headacherecovery.org/try https://journal.headacherecovery.org/sample-report